What is Psoriasis?

Psoriasis is a skin disease due to an altered immune system, whereby skin gets inflamed, red, itchy and scaly. There may be small or large patches of dry, silvery scales in many parts of the body, especially in the folds, elbows, knees, scalp or any other part. Most cases may present with small body area involvement while over 20% cases may exhibit large or full skin involvement. Psoriasis has a tendency to either disappear on its own (or due to medication), reappear at irregular interval or may stay for years.

What else should I know about Psoriasis?

Psoriasis is a chronic and obstinate disease. There is no short cut to its treatment. Many patients suffer with it for six months to over thirty years or even life long, with varying periods of remission (disease free period). One must know that it is not just a skin deep disease. Since it is a result of defective immune system, the treatment should be targeted at correcting internal immune system rather than just an application of cream or lotion (or cortisone) on skin.

Psoriasis can affect skin, scalp and nails. When it affects joints, it leads to inflammation and deformity of joints, called Psoriatic Arthritis, which is found in above 5% cases of Psoriasis patients.

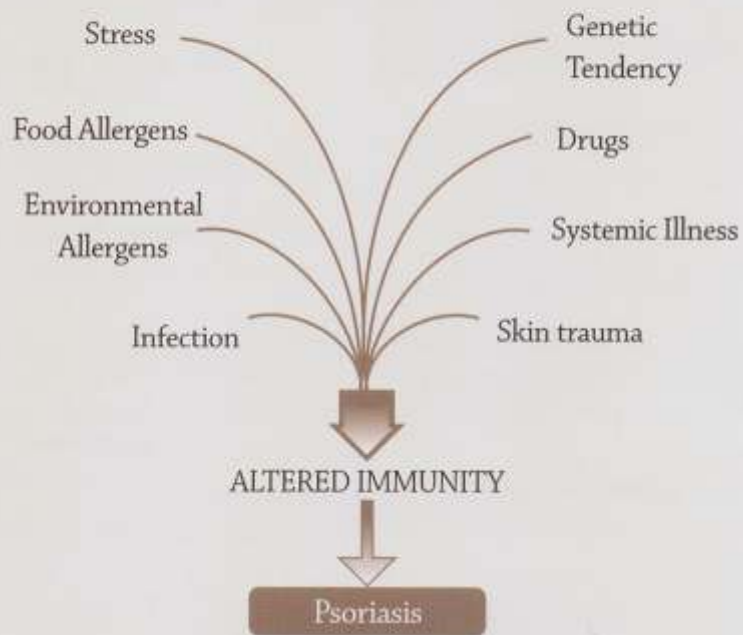

Patients suffering with Psoriasis should know that homeopathy offers an excellent treatment. The conventional treatment which uses largely cortisone and other immunosuppressive medicines, offer temporary relief as well as many side effects including drug dependency. Unfortunately, no system of medicine can offer 100% cure forever in all the patients.

How is Psoriasis diagnosed?

Trained doctors can diagnose Psoriasis clinically by a close examination. A skin biopsy can help in doubtful cases, which is rarely required. Some of the conditions which at times resemble Psoriasis are eczema, fungal infection, and systemic lupus.

What causes Psoriasis?

The exact cause behind Psoriasis is not fully understood. Psoriasis is found to result from mixed causes which include Genetic, immunological and allergic factors. It is often triggered or aggravated by stress and contact with chemicals. Altered immunity is a key scenario in the back ground.

Homeopathy treats Psoriasis at the root level by addressing the multi-factorial totality in every case, as shown above.

Scope of homeopathy for Psoriasis

Homeopathy treats Psoriasis by addressing multiple causative factors in a strategic manner. It treats Psoriasis at a deeper level by correcting the immune system as well as genetic tendency. The benefits may be highlighted as under:

- It gives excellent results in most cases
- It treats immune system, genetic tendency and stress coping system
- Even chronic, extensive cases show significant improvement
- It helps cases Psoriatic arthritis. However, it cannot cure deformity
- Cortisone treated and dependent cases can be helped if adequate time is given
- It can take most cases into long remission
It is absolutely safe

Testimonials:

My body was full of psoriasis disease. It was embarrassing and frustrating for years. I was put on chemical based medicines by my doctors in the US which relieved my problem, but only for short time. I was fed up. When I approached Dr Shah, I realized that Psoriasis needs to be treated at the immunity level and not externally. I took up the program. The result has been up to my satisfaction. I do not hesitate to recommend Dr Shah's homeopathy treatment to any one who needs help for Psoriasis.

-Leo Fernandez, Florida, USA.

I have suffered from this terrible disease called Psoriasis for last 20 years. I have tried everything possible including homeopathy by my local doctors in Gujarat. Eventually my family doctor referred me to Life Force in Mumbai and I was highly impressed by the treatment as well as the way they handled my case. At the end of almost one year of the treatment, I can say my progress is simply excellent. Me and my family doctor are happy. My family doctor sends at least one patient every fortnight to Dr Shah!

-Mahendra Valsad, India

My doctors in London did not believe that I could be cured of the disease I had. Now, three of the hospital doctors are examining your homeopathy web sites.
